❸ Delivery Staff Mobile App
Here is a free tip in online success:

The "HENRY's" (High Income Not Rich Yet) own 64% of global online spend and vote with their money as follows 1) Great service 2) They buy experiential above value 3) They are HIGHLY mobile oriented and reward mobile optimised companies with their spend 4) They seek instant gratification and expedient delivery and THEN ONLY 5) Price competitiveness. These pre-millenial mostly post graduate young professionals LOVE the features of eFOOD!

Ignore HENRY and their very specific needs and requirements and you are leaving a huge chunk on the table ~ Flurry Analytics late 2021

More and more, PWAs form a vital part of the online marketing ecosystem and definitely engage more new users ~ Tech Crunch 2020

Unlike a native mobile app, a PWA is indexed by search engines, meaning that your business and it's apps can be found by casual web surfers that may not have known about your business any other way.

Due to the way we code this mobile optimized desktop "website" can be added to the user's homescreen as if it were a native app and integrates 100% seamlessly with your eFood ecosystem. It enjoys all functionality of the native app version and most important of all, your users can order, pay and track delivery...without a single phone call!
